REPORT OF THE CHIEF ENGINEER.—The annual report of Samuel A. French. Chief Engineer of the Jersey City Fire Department, has been rendered to the Common Council. The Department is strong, harmonious and efficient; and its apparatus is in a good condition. During the post year there have been ecventeen fires, with an estimated total loss of ordy $3.000 of property. The greatest loss by any one fire has been $300. There have been one hundred and tweaty five false alarms curing the year. The Department has 6,000 teet of hose, of which $500 feet are in complete order. The Chief regards the wranization of eavy more Fire Companies as unnecessary, and recomends that the numbers of Companies he fixed as a rule, hereafter, at thirty instead of elsey for Engine Companies, thirty instead of fixy for Hose Companies, and firty instead of seventy for Hook and Ladder Companies. He does not recommed the dismissal of members, but that the membership of Companies be allowed to diminish by resignations and expitations of terms of service until reduced to this rule. He recommends the creation of a fire bell tower, which can be built and farmshed with a bell weighting 6,000 pounds for $3,000. A fire bell would prevent most of the false alarms, and call out the Department more promptly in case of a fire. He estimates the darrage to apparatus in running to false alarms to be at least $500 per year, which could thus be saved. He also recommends the establishment by the Common Council of a Board of Commissioners to investigate all cases of disorderly conduct, try and decide upon all cases of disorderly conduct, try and decide upon all cases of disorderly conduct, try and decide upon all cases of disorderly conduct, try and decide upon all cases of disorderly conduct, try and decide upon all cases of disorderly conduct, try and decide upon all cases of disorderly conduct, try and decide upon all cases of disorderly conduct, try and decide upon all cases of disorderly conduct, try and decide upon all cases of disorderly conduct, try and d

There was a strong reaction to day from the panic of vesterday, and a large portion of the decline was reovered. There were more orders in the street from outsiders than we have noticed for a long time. The activity in money does not extend beyond the street, and parties having capital idle were drawn in by the fall of Friday to take a line in stocks.

Money was also much easier to obtain to day in the street, which encouraged the operators for a rise to purchase. Nearly every stock advanced, and the market after the Second Board clered firm. Cleveland and Toledo, which sold privately, on Friday, very low, at 72 or less, closed at 77. Michigan Southern recovered from 95 to 97; Michigan Central, 93 to 95; Clevaland and Pittsburgh 634 to 644; Chicago and Rock Island, 90 to 924; Milwankee and Mississippi, 81 to 824, &c., nearly the points from which these stocks started. The Eagle Fire-Insurance Company a semi-ennua dividend of 10 $\text{$\psi}$ cent, payable on the 7th inst. The Chatham Bank a semi-annual dividend of 3! P clared a dividend of 7 per cent., payable in stock. The Money market was much easier to-day, and there was but little difficulty in obtaining on call all that borrowers needed. The preparations for the large payments of to day had been previously made, and the demand was smaller than had been anticipated. As far as we could ascertain the payment of discounted paper was prompt. The strength of our merchants is fully shown by the fact that the offerings on Friday at the Metropolitan, which had three-quarters of a million to receive on Saturday, were smaller than on any offering day for a month past. The contraction of the banks has been large and the street is prepared to see a decline of some two millions in the average of cans and discounts. In relation to the specie line there is considerable difference of opinion.

Between the period of Mr. Dean's report, Sept. 38, 1854, and May 31, 1855, the new managers found the indebtedness of the Road had been increased $440,-241 67, and the sources from which to fund the floating debt had decreased $283,000. The floating debt on the 31st March, 1855, was $1,091,333 21, and on the 31st March, 1836, was $677,106 05-showing a decrease of $414,227 16, which was paid by selling Second which is unincumbered and that may be disposed of, nearly equal in value to the whole amount, The Directors express the opinion that most of the dividends heretofore declared, have not been earned. The "Albany Extension" is considered a burden upon the road, and the contract to build it is called a "partial, one-sided" contract. The report complains of vexatious exactions by the Corporation, requiring numerous and expensive changes of grade, depots, &c. Numerous and vexatious law suits have been settled during the year. The question of compensation for use of track, &c. from the New Haven road is now in the hands of arbitrators. The Directors concluds by saying that they feel that it is their duty to manage the Company as they would manage their own private business. That it is the interest of the road, and not the interests of particular individnals, they must consult. At the same lime, they desire and aim to extend every facility and accommodations to all traveling over the road, consistent with the means and ability of the Company. The Directors believe a further reduction in the expenses can be made, and if no nausual event takes place to put it out of their power, a resumption of the dividends on the preferred stock may be commenced on the 1st of

OHIO TRANSFER AGENT.

From The columbus Journal.

The correspondence which follows is alike booorable to all the parties concerned. The letter of Mr. Cor-wine, declining the appointment so handsomely ten-dered him after the action of the Sanate, may safely be recommended as a model to young sepirants for effice. The rejection was not on personal grounds, and in no way reflected on the fitness for the place for which he had been selected; but Mr. Cerwine, with that nice chies. The rejection was not on present grounds, and in no way reflected on the finous for the place for which he had been selected; but Mr. Cerwine, with that nice sense of personal bonor which is his charaterstic, declined to place himself in a position where explanation, would at all be necessary for the vindication of his course either to friend or opponent.

R. M. Corwine, Esq. — Dear Sir: At a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Sinking Fanol of the State of Coho, held this day at the office of the acting Commissioner of and thind, the following proceedings were had:

After consultation, and in view of the fact that the appointment of R. M. Corwine, esq. was rejected by the Senate apon the sole grounds, as the Commissioners are hoformed and believe, that a majority of the Senate preferred a "bank" or "microsed institution" as "Transfer Agent" to an individual, and in view of the fact that the law verts the discretion in this respect in the Crumissioners, and not in the Senate; and that, as it is desirable in the opinion of the Commissioners that an agent shall be appointed who can be a check on the depository provided for by law, therefore Readerd, That the Commissioners adhere to the policy already adopted, of appointing an individual such agent; and that the appointment be again tendered to R. C. Corwine, esq., and that he appointment be again tendered to R. C. Corwine, esq., and that he informed of this action on the part of the Commissioners.
